

RISK WARNINGS

The purpose of this Risk Disclosure (hereinafter referred to as the "Warning") is to disclose to the Client information about the risks associated with performing Transactions in the financial markets, and to warn the Client about possible financial losses associated with these risks. The list of risks given in this Warning is not exhaustive due to the variety of possible situations that arise when performing these Operations.

1. Any opinion, news, research, analysis, pricing, or other information provided as general market commentary and not investment advice. Trading CFDs carries a high level of risk and may not be suitable for everyone, so traders must ensure that they fully understand all financial and legal aspects and assume any risk of loss that may arise while using the system. Seek independent advice if necessary.

2. When performing Transactions on international financial markets, any change in the price of the Underlying Asset may have a significant impact on the Client's Trading Account due to the Leverage effect. In accordance with this circumstance, when the market moves against the position of the Client, he may incur a loss in the amount of funds deposited to the Trading Account, as well as in the amount of funds deposited by him additionally to maintain Open Positions. The Client is fully responsible for taking into account all risks, the use of funds and the choice of a strategy for performing these Operations.

3. A number of Instruments have a significant intraday range of price changes, which implies a high probability of receiving both profit and loss on the Transactions under consideration. In the event of increased volatility, a drop in liquidity and other significant changes in market conditions that cause a change in quotations by more than 5% for a period not exceeding the duration of the Operating Day, the Company has the right to fix the financial result on the Client's Operations at a price not exceeding a 5% change in quotations for in relation to the moment of the beginning of the change in the quotations of financial Instruments, determined by the Company.

4. The Client assumes the risk of financial losses (losses) due to malfunction of information, communication, electrical and other systems used to perform the Operations provided for by the Agreement and its annexes.

5. The Client acknowledges that in market conditions other than normal, the processing time for the Client's orders and Orders may increase.

6. The client assumes the risk of financial losses (losses) caused by force majeure (force majeure), which means any action, event or phenomenon, including but not limited to:

6.1. strikes, riots or civil unrest, terrorist acts, wars, natural disasters, accidents, fires, floods, storms, hurricanes, power outages, communication, software or electronic equipment that, in the Company's reasonable opinion, has led to the destabilization of the market or markets of one or more Tools;

6.2. suspension, liquidation or closure of any market or the absence of any event on which the Company bases Quotes, or the imposition of restrictions or special or non-standard trading conditions, as well as the conduct of Transactions in any market, or in relation to any such event.

7. When planning and conducting Operations associated with an increased risk, the Client should take into account that in practice, the possibility of a positive and negative deviation of the actual result from the planned (or expected) often exist simultaneously and are implemented depending on a number of specific circumstances, the degree of consideration of which determines the effectiveness Client Operations.

8. Considering the above, the Company recommends the Client to carefully consider whether the risks arising from the operations in the international financial market are acceptable taking into account the goals and financial capabilities of the Client.

9. This Warning is not intended to force the Client to refuse to perform Operations on the international financial market, but is intended to help the Client assess the risks associated with the performance of these Operations, and to responsibly approach the decision on the choice of an activity strategy within the framework of the execution of the Agreement concluded with the Company.